Green Bag Scripture (青囊經)

1. The invincible forces are the forces between heaven (sky) and earth. The Sky represents Yang energy while earth represents Yin energy. The energy from sky subsides while the earth energy rises resulted in intercourse that creates changes. The early days Bagua formation is the result of the interaction between Yin and Yang. The numbers ascribed here are synonymous to married couple with anything that repel is bad and attract is good. For instant the married couple numbers are 1 and 9, 2 and 8, 3 and 7, and 4 and 6. Beside this, the creation couples also serve to ignite kind energy and of course with the right timing are 1 and 6, 2 and 7, 3 and 8, 4 and 9. This Lok Shu magic numbers work wonder and are imbedded with secret codes and information that can explain the formation of universe. The diagonal and straight sums up to 15 and when we minus the 5 in the center, the sum add up to 10, which is the married couple number. The numbers in term of 5-elements are 1, 6 are water, 2, 7 are fire, 3, 8 are wood, 4, 9 are metal, the position of such numbers dictate what element they belong to.
2. In searching for the real 'dragon pressure point' for graveyard site, the dynamic of a dragon will need to meet with the static of the energy gathering point. This is the interaction of Yin and Yang. Sky (天) and Earth (地), Mountain (山) and Swamp (澤), Thunder (雷) and Wind (風), Water (水) and Fire (火) are the symbol of Bagua that carry loads of information about the universe. This can be explained by the law of opposite attracts, without which things cannot hold well, there is no day and night, big and small, tall and short and contra in life.

3. Forms and energies with cause and effect. Things are classify in accordance to Yin and Yang and 5-elements. Hard and soft, day and night, heavy and light and etc. Such phenomena none other than the interaction of Yin and Yang as a result. The form will dictate what kind of energy that will permeate and reflect out. This can be explained by the antenna concept in which a protruding tip will receive the cosmic stars energies and pass to surrounding inhabitant. Certain sensitivity requires adsorbing such energies. Such combination will need to satisfy the Yin and Yang concept and anything that violates such law resulted in unwarranted circumstances. In ancient days, such concept will help farmers to plant and harvest their produces. The process requires accommodative of weather in particular.
4. The 5-elements of earth are virtually the 5-stars in the sky. This correlation is the natural law of nature that dictating the form and shape of landforms. Ancient wisdom had let us know that the Wood Star (木星) has the unique characteristics among others like representing the direction of East and is the spring season energy. The Yinghuo (荧惑) represents summer, fire and the direction of South. The Zeng Star (镇星) represents earth and the location of center. The Tai Pa Star (太白) is metal and represents the season of autumn or fall. The San Star (辰星) is water and represents winter. The serial of stars in the sky also represents 5 – elements are the serial of 28-constelation. With 7 each represents by one element. The mountaineers and rivers are the earth energy. The sky and earth energy combining to achieve changes to take place.
5. The balance state of 5-elements is also the balance of Yin and Yang, any disturbance in equilibrium state will create undesirable outcome. Sole Yin or sole Yang will not live in harmonious state or they are not mutually exclusive. (孤陰不生, 獨陽不長).
6. The 4 direction and 8 Guas carry certain energies and information at different time period. And to live peace fully is to achieve the balance state of 5 elements.

Summary: The invincible forces are the lively energies between sky and earth, while the forms and shapes determine what kind of element they belong to and any changes in the status quo resulted changes in outcomes. Change is the only constant and is prepared to accept changes in life.
